COVER: Anna Louise James, a member of the class of 1908 at the Brooklyn College of Pharmacy, was one of the first African-American women to graduate from an integrated school of pharmacy. After owning a drugstore in her native Hartford, Connecticut for several years, she bought her brother-in-law's pharmacy in nearby Old Saybrook in 1917. Shown here behind the counter of the James Pharmacy in Old Saybrook she owned and operated her store until retiring in 1967. —GTB
