

CONTENTS

- 133 Editor's Introduction
Lucas Richert
- 134 Special Issue Introduction: Colonial Histories of Plant-Based Pharmaceuticals
Geoff Bil and Jaipreet Virdi

ARTICLES

- 149 An Empire of Materia Medica at the Late Medici Court
Ashley Buchanan
- 171 Potent Roots on the Move: Calumba and Abutua as African, Imperial, and Global Medicines, c. 1700s–1900s
Kalle Kananoja and Markku Hokkanen
- 195 Head of a Serpent, a Pinch of Rue: Women, Indigenous Pharmacology, and the Patriarchy of French Colonizing Science in Morocco
Ellen Amster
- 223 Opiates, Labor, and the US Colonial Project in the Philippines, 1898–1908
Eva Ward
- 247 The Shadows of Curare: Histories and Pre-Histories of Pharmaceutical Research in the Amazon
Matt O'Hara
- 270 Making Scientific Sense of Traditional Medicine: Efficacy, Bioprospecting, and the Enduring Hope of Drug Discovery in Ethiopia
Rachael A. Hill
- 302 White Pine in Time and Place: Anishinaabe History, Western Herbalism, and the Settler Dynamics of Appropriation
Macey Flood and Natasha Myhal
- 328 Ayahuasca on Trial: Biocolonialism, Biopiracy, and the Commodification of the Sacred
Sara V. Press
- 354 Afterword
Graham Dutfield